HOT SHOT FIRED AT BUREAUCRATS

Congressman William Alden Smith of Michigan Defends House Members From Bristow's Attack.

Special Correspondence The Tribune. WASHINGTON, March 26.-Hon. delivered a speech in the House in defense of members who were condemned by the Bristow report for performing their simple and clear duties in the Postoffice department which will ring in the ears of Congressmen and those of the country who read it for many years.

Mr. Smith simply voiced the feelings within the breast of every member of the House. Others in a fragmentary or disconnected form virtually have expressed the same views. Congress is responsible for the disbursement of all the country's money. No expenditure can be made by any executive department or the President or any official under the Government without an appropriation having been previously made by the Congress. Mr. Smith showed in his short but

air. Smith snowed in his short but comprehensive speech that a Congress-man was a buffer for the general administration—that he stood between the administration and the people, and generally received the blame for all shortcomings in expenditures or administration and wealth and the state of the state o istration, and usually held the bag at

DEMANDED AN INVESTIGATION. For this reason Mr. Smith demanded a full investigation of Bristow's administration, and, in fact, the entire Post-office department, in order that those who may have been derelict should receive the censure, and not the men in Congress, who only attended to the business which they were elected to perform After pointing to the fact that Blaine, Garfield, McKiniey and other men who served in the House of Representatives had been called to the Presidency and many from the House Presidency, and many from the House to the Senate and to the Cabinet and to Embassadorships, he said:

A SNEAKING APOLOGY.

The Postoffice department has volun-tarily undertaken to cast a stigma up-on this great chamber of the people. They have gone out of their way to give partial facts, which, fully ex-plained, would have been creditable to every member, and then in a little foot-note, which would require a magnify-ing glass to read, have said: "Where no excess is shown the allowance was warranted at the time it was authorized," thus exonerating nineteen-twentieths of the men named. Why were they mentioned at all? Let the guilty author of this volume answer.

CONTEMPTIBLE BUREAUCRACY. The House of Representatives is the buffer state in our political system. We stand between the executive departments of this Government and the peo-ple. We are the only body of men high in governmental affairs for whom the people can vote for directly. We are the clr chosen servants, and are here to de their bidding. They can not vote directly for a President. Electors must be chosen to express their popular will. They can not vote directly for Senators, because the Legislature must elect Sen-

I repeat, we are the buffer state in our political system, and if the inquiries daily received from people were ad-dressed to any bureau, or even the President, and such requests denied with scant courtesy, the person making answer would soon become the most unpopular man in the United States. Friendship for the Representative and his known willingness save him from criticism. The contest is now on between the representatives of the receivers. tween the representatives of the people and a bureaucracy that has assumed to sit in judgment upon our official acts one, denying to the public information properly belonging to it.

CABALS AND CLIQUES I want to say to this House and to the country that the great menace to governmental efficiency of this country today is the irresponsibility of Government employees, owing no allegiance to the people, but with maudlin sycophancy and sickening idolatry transferring their political convictions from one chief to another as rapidly as occasion requires to selfishly cultivate their favor. These great departments are filled with cabals and cliques who surround the new head, whoever he may be, and artfully lead him over the thorny path of administrative duty without even permitting him to inquire about his surroundings. POLITICAL CRUISERS

I want to say to this House that a Representative directly from the people has no standing in the National Capitol, in the estimation of these political crul sers. I know a department of this Gov-ernment where they have issued orders to the elevator man that whenever a bureau chief gets on the elevator he bureau chief gets on the elevator he shall be promptly delivered to his floor, whether Representatives are ever assisted to their destination or not. He may carry a Representative in Congress up and down the heights and depths of that building without stepties of that building without stepties to let him off no matter how us.

OFFICIALS DISCOURTEOUS. There is not a bureau of this Govern-ment that shows proper respect for the Representatives of the people. If you

Justify their confidence and shall continue my efforts unabated. If my influence grows with the years: if I err in the discharge of my duty, they shall be the sole judges of my offense. ## TO PROTECT LIVES OF OUR PRESIDENTS

Senate Committee Reports the Bill to Safeguard Execu-

WASHINGTON, March 26 .- The Senate Committee on Judiciary today ordered a favorable report on a bill to William Alden Smith of Michigan has protect the President of the United States. Several bills have been under consideration by both Senate and House committees since the assassination of President McKinley. Different bills passed the Houses during the last session, but the two Houses could come to no agreement. The bill reported today follows:

"Section 1. That any person who shall, within the limits of the United States or any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof, wilfully and maliclously kill or cause the death of the President or Vice-President of the United States or any officer thereof upon whom the power and duties of the President have devolved under the constitution or the law, shall suffer

Section 2 is worded similarly and per tain to the killing of Vice-Presidents acting as President, or officer acting as such under the constitution. Sec-tion 2 pertains to the murder of accredited Embassadors and Ministers. The death penalty is provided. Section 5 pertains to accessories, and section 6 to aiding or abetting in the escape of persons guilty of crimes specified.

The report of the committee is not unanimous and Senator Bacon said he would file a minority report against certain provisions of the measure,

Mrs. Sarah Beaty of 1361 West 4th South, says: "I have had attacks of backache for two years. For a week at a time I have been almost wild with pain just across the loins. When a person cannot bend, lift or turn they are helpless and naturally ardently long for some means to give even the slightest relief. A friend of mine, who obtained Doan's Kidney Pills at the F. J. Hill Drug Co.'s drug store, told me they had brought her undoubted benefit and insisted upon my trying them. Following her advice I got a box and took a few doses. They helped. A continuation of the treatment for some time, much to my surprise and considerably more to my gratification, stopped the attack. Should others recur I now know what to use to get relief.

Men, No Pay Till I Cure You!

EVERY BLADE WARRANTED

Let any man who is weak, broken down, old and decrepit in physical weakness, full of pains and aches, gloomy, despondent and cheerless-any man who wants to be stronger and younger than he feels-let him come and tell me how he feels. and if I say that I can cure him I will not ask a cent until I have done so.

I don't want money that I don't earn. I don't need it, and am not after it. But I am after the dollars that are now going wrong in the quest of health. Look at all these poor wrecks of humanity that are spending all they earn on drugsdope that is paralyzing their vital organs-that have spent all they have earned for years without gaining a pound of strength for the hundreds of dollars wasted.

That is the money that I am after, because for every dollar I take I can give a thousand per cent interest and I don't want it at all until I have cured you if you will secure me. I have cured so many cases right here that I can prove my claims to you, but if that proof is not enough I'll give you the names of men right near you-where you are. Is that fair?

Most of the belts that I am selling now are to men who have been sent here by their friends whom I have cured. I think that is the best evidence that my business is a success from the standpoint of cures, as well as on the dollar side.

Wherever you are, I think I can give you the name of a man in your town that I have cured. Just send me your address and let me try. This is my twenty-fourth year in the business of pumping new vim into worn-out humanity and I've got cures in nearly every town on the map.
